

“Mr. Shehata has over 11 years of professional experience in designing and managing results-oriented rule of law programs on legal and judicial reforms, including management and coaching of key experts, and monitoring and evaluation of multi-functional projects in different environments. Mr. Shehata has a significant experience in government and donor relations and a profound knowledge of the challenges and potential of the political, socio-economic, and cultural context in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA). He has a large professional network of key stakeholders in the region, including senior government officials, judges, policy makers and representatives of civil society organizations. Mr. Shehata successfully designed and implemented several multi-year programs differing in scope, for a total value of approximately € 10 million, that led to sustainable results for the beneficiaries and enhanced visibility for the Organization. Mr Shehata supported a number of MENA countries to enhance their regulatory framework and expand access to justice, including the development and implementation of key programs to provide local partners with financial and technical support.”
